

Inclement Weather Decision Making Process and FAQ

Maury County Public Schools is aware of the effects of opening school during less than perfect conditions and of closing or delaying schools when poor weather conditions exist.

MCPS understands that students are better served – both academically and socially – by being in school. On the other hand, we operate in more than 600 square miles and the weather can vary significantly--as can road conditions--in different parts of the county. Often major roadways are in good driving condition, but rural roads remain treacherous.

MCPS students and staff members travel to school in many ways.

Some are driven on school buses, some walk to schools or bus stops, some are driven by parents, some drive themselves or are driven by other students. When the school district considers the impact of weather conditions on the ability to open schools, all of these methods of transportation are considered. We also consider teenagers who drive to high schools in the early morning hours before it is light. While we do think about bus issues, school bus transportation is by far the safest form of transportation.

MCPS buses begin their runs shortly after 6:00 a.m.; our goal is to decide by 5 a.m.

Occasionally weather conditions worsen quickly thus requiring a decision after 5 a.m. Parents need to be aware of this possibility and plan accordingly. The safety of our students, staff, and parents remains our primary consideration. Once a decision is made, the process of notifying media outlets, sending School Messenger calls to parents, and posting to the district social media pages begins.

Where can I find emergency announcements?

Maury County Public Schools uses multiple outlets to announce emergency closings:

- MCPS Facebook page, www.facebook.com/maurycopublicschools
- MCPS Twitter feed, <https://twitter.com/MauryCoSchools>
- School Messenger notification system – parents must provide current phone numbers and email addresses for use in this notification system
- area radio and Nashville television stations are notified of the announcement
- local newspaper The Daily Herald is notified of the announcement

There is no official announcement made when schools are operating on a normal schedule.

If we're lucky, weather events occur in ways and times that make it easy to decide to open, delay, or close.

If precipitation is on the ground and the precipitation is frozen or will refreeze, the decision to delay or close is easier. But, storm tracks can change at any time, significantly affecting the outcome in our county. For this reason, our administrators may wait until early in the morning to see what really occurs instead of making a decision based upon a forecast. Snow, sleet, or freezing rain often doesn't start until between 5:00 a.m. and 8:00 a.m. Flooding can occur on roads in the early morning hours. On some days, Maury County residents experience perfect conditions in some areas of the county and dangerous conditions in other parts.

When weather events have occurred or are occurring, the school district confers with local police and sheriff's departments, 911, the Emergency Management Office, the National Weather Service, and TDOT. MCPS administrators also report what they are experiencing. The Superintendent and the Supervisor of Transportation and School Safety may drive across county roads and around schools to obtain firsthand information on current conditions. Then, the Superintendent makes the final decision. Ultimately, each parent should be prepared to make the best decision for his or her child. If schools are open, but a parent does not believe it is safe for his or her child, the parent should keep their child at home.

What are the possible choices for weather closings?

There are options to deal with inclement weather; these are put into effect when conditions threaten the safety of children. These options are: (1) close schools (2) open late (3) close early.

If schools have a delayed opening for the start of school, they will dismiss at their normal times.

If schools open two hours late, buses will run accordingly and run two hours later than their normal pick up time for your child. Similarly, if schools are dismissed two hours early, buses will pick up students at school two hours early and parents can anticipate their child home two hours before their regular arrival time.

Why aren't schedule change announcements made sooner?

Ideally, a decision may be made the night before if a reliable forecast is issued and we are able to announce a delayed opening or closing. If conditions do not allow a decision to be made the night before, our goal is to announce school closings and delayed openings by 5 a.m. The timing of the decision remains secondary, however, to safety issues.

We understand how inconvenient it is to arrange childcare at the last minute.

Parents are urged to make arrangements ahead of time for the care of their children when schedule changes are made (and to provide for the rare situation when it is necessary to close an individual school because of a power failure or other circumstances). Children should know where to go if a parent will not be home.

Why doesn't MCPS close only those portions of the county that are most affected by the weather?

- Students in various programs are transported all over the county on any given day. If a portion of the district were to close while other portions remained open, students who live in the "closed" area would need to get to schools that are open and vice versa.
- Buses are used numerous times every day for runs all over the county. A bus housed in a "closed" portion of the district would still be needed to serve open schools.
- Teachers and specialists work on numerous campuses.

There are weather occurrences that may cause a closing of one school such as flooding or tornado activity that has damaged a school building. These instances will be handled as they arise.

What happens when the number of school days lost due to inclement weather or illness exceeds the number of days planned in the school year calendar?

There are eight inclement weather days built into the school calendar; these days may be used for widespread illness closing as well. The Superintendent and Central Office Administrators are responsible for developing and implementing a plan to make up for additional days missed. Teachers work hard to ensure continuity of learning for students when school days are missed due to district closures.

How do I find out if a particular event is canceled or postponed due to inclement weather?

If school is not in session or is dismissed early due to inclement weather (or widespread illness), the superintendent in consultation with the principal(s) of the impacted school(s) will determine if scheduled after school events and activities in which students are involved will be postponed or cancelled. Extended care notices will be communicated from individual schools and from the organization providing the care.

Can I choose to keep my child home even if schools are open? Will this be an excused absence?

Parents may decide to keep their child home. Parents should contact their child's schools to determine if the absence will be excused.

Can I come and pick up my child when there is a TORNADO WARNING issued for our area?

No. A tornado warning is the most severe warning and if a warning of this level has been issued when students and school personnel are on campuses, no buses will run nor students released until the warning is lifted. Students and all personnel within the school building will remain inside in designated tornado areas until the warning has expired. Release of students during a tornado puts everyone in danger.
